Yorke
Peninsula

Ethel Beach, Dhillba Guuranda-Innes National Park

DISCOVER YORKE PENINSULA!

Discover its rich palette – its golden wheat fields, its turquoise bays and pink salt lakes.

Discover the unlikely melting pot of cultures – the Narungga people, the Cornish miners, the Norwegian grain racers, the Scottish gypsum diggers, the farmers who came from everywhere suspecting the soil was rather better than it first looked.

Discover, also, its pleasures.

A long dusk on a salt-cured jetty. The crazy scrit-scratch on the tines of a crab rake. Walking onto a beach that no-one has visited. The taste of oysters you've helped to harvest. The flood of memories from your own childhood when you see your kids crouched beside a rockpool...

We suggest the things you should see, the places you should stay and the good things you should eat.

But most of all we suggest only one thing.
That you discover it for yourself.

Enjoy!

EXPLORE

Most people are surprised to learn the peninsula is 200 kilometres from top to toe and only 40 kilometres across at its widest point. So to help you get a better measure of the region, we've divided your guide into three: Northern, Central and Southern Yorke.

 NORTHERN  CENTRAL  SOUTHERN

See page 34 for a more detailed map of the region.

FISHING + BOATING

Browns Beach, Dhillba Guuranda-Innes National Park

CRABBING TIPS

Blue Swimmer crabs are best caught during summer. Try your luck along the beaches from Port Gawler to Stansbury in Gulf St Vincent or along the Spencer Gulf to Port Broughton.

- 1 It's easy! All you need is a tub and a rake (available for about $10 in most local shops). Don't forget to wear old sneakers – a crab will go for your toes!
- 2 The best time to head out is when the tide turns to come back in.
- 3 Rake where the soft sand meets the weed. When a crab grabs your rake, lift it into your tub!
- 4 The best months for crabbing are September to April as the waters are warmer and more productive.
- 5 Be mindful that crabs have a legal size and bag limit, and that females carrying eggs (roe) can't be taken.

Jetty fishing

Thanks to a history of wheat exporting, Yorke's coastline has some spectacular timber jetties. Expect plenty of locals and visitors casting for tommies, jigging for squid and dropping pots for crabs.

Boat owners

Boat owners will find plenty of good boat ramps and beach launching facilities – many with all-weather ramps. When in doubt, ask around for the heads-up on local conditions. Many have fish cleaning and wash down facilities, and most ramps have dual lanes.

What's out there?

Australian salmon Found anywhere there is a headland, bluff or surf area, Australian salmon can be caught all year-around using pilchards or lures for bait. The best seasons are autumn and winter.

Blue Swimmer crab Crabs can be caught all year-round but you'll have the best luck in the warmer months. The best baits to use are fish heads and squid, or grab a rake, plastic tub and old sneakers and head off the beach.

King George whiting Succulent King George whiting can be caught from both sides of the peninsula and they are undoubtedly one of the tastiest meals you will catch from the sea.

Southern Rock lobster Rugged coastline areas on the southern shores of Yorke Peninsula are home to Southern Rock lobster. These delicious crustaceans are permitted to be caught in the open season.

Squid Squid can be caught pretty much anywhere around the coastline – from jetties or boats. Watch out for the ink while you score yourself a tasty meal!

Garfish Gar are plentiful in the warmer months and inhabit all the waters around Yorke Peninsula. Gents, prawns and cockles are their bait of choice.

Tommy Ruffs A great option for the kids, "tommies" or Australian Herring, are one of the easiest species to catch from any of the many jetties.

Windara Reef

The first of its kind in South Australia and the largest in Australia, Windara Reef is a shellfish restoration reef located in Gulf St Vincent. It offers great fishing for recreational fishers with fish species including King George whiting. The 20-hectare reef site located off Rogues Point, south of Ardrossan, focuses on habitat restoration, specifically the restoration of native shellfish reefs which have been lost from the Yorke Peninsula region.

No boat? No worries!

If you're looking for an unforgettable experience and guidance from a local expert, why not book a fishing charter? Whether you're a novice or experienced, the crew are always happy to help you hook into some great action at their best fishing grounds.

Most charter operators can cater for small to large groups or you can join in with another group if travelling solo. Target species include a range of wild fish from nannygai and morwong to harlequin, trevally, kingfish, tuna and mulloway.

Reef Encounters Fishing Charters are based at Marion Bay to guide you around the wild south. Deckie for a Day lets you get up close and personal with oysters at Stansbury.

NATURE + WILDLIFE

Dhilba Guuranda-Innes National Park

Wide open spaces

Yorke Peninsula is not only beautiful, much of it is protected.

The leg of land is surrounded by more than 700 kilometres of coastline and no fewer than four of South Australia's 19 marine parks. The beaches are pristine and for the greatest part, empty of people. As for the land itself, the open spaces are vast and great tracts of it are still under native bushland.

Wildlife flourishes in the paddocks and the national park. Expect to see kangaroos and emus across the region. Look out for the hefty Shingleback lizards and an occasional echidna on the straw-coloured dirt roads that criss-cross the barley fields. And if you want to see rarer native species, head to the new conservation program underway in spectacular Dhilba Guuranda-Innes National Park, where Tammar Wallabies and Brush-Tailed Bettongs have been released as part of the Marna Banggara conservation project. Southern Brown Bandicoots, Red-Tailed Phascogales and Western Quolls are also scheduled to be introduced.

The birdlife is as prolific as it is surprising. The pelicans are fearless, always happy to sit in wait while the fishermen fillet their catch. The White-bellied sea eagles take a little more patience to find, but one of the most fancied birds – the wild budgerigars of Port Vincent – are surprisingly easy to spot.

On the many clifftop walks, you're very likely to spot eagle rays, some of them two metres across. Dolphins will put on a show most months of the year, right around the peninsula, so too will the seals, and in the more southerly waters, Southern Right Whales can be seen from May to September.

Stay and explore

Seven renovated heritage lodges within the Inneston historic township make the perfect base for exploring Dhilba Guuranda-Innes National Park. Step into the past and experience the uninhabited village which once provided facilities and housing for 200 gypsum miners and families. A stroll along the Inneston Historic Walk is a great way to explore this special part of the state's mining history.

Shipwrecks, lighthouses and walking trails

A must do is a visit to the Ethel wreck. The bones of this iron barque have rested on the beach since 1904. Steps now offer easy beach access. Located on the same beach is the boiler of the steamer, Ferret. For breathtaking 360 degree views of the mainland and ocean, take a walk along the West Cape Headland, passing the West Cape Lighthouse.

Diving made easy

Snorkellers can get a taste of the water clarity and marine diversity around the pylons of Edithburgh Jetty, where keen-eyed naturalists have been known to spot the fabled Leafy seadragon and the always-fascinating cuttlefish. Point Gilbert near Port Moorowie offers shallow snorkelling and the chance to see Port Jackson sharks.

Camping

Dhilba Guuranda-Innes National Park has seven designated campgrounds, mostly within easy reach from your next surf or beach adventure. Pondalowie Bay Campground (known as Pondie to the locals) has public toilets, gas barbecues and up to 50 campsites. There are areas for caravans, motor homes and trailers (no campfire facilities). Shell Beach, Casuarina or Cable Bay campgrounds provide the next level of isolation. Please note that campfires are not permitted in Dhilba Guuranda-Innes National Park during fire danger season.

Southern Spencer Gulf Marine Park

Encompassing the coastline of the Park, the Southern Spencer Gulf Marine Park is home to pods of dolphins all year-round, while schools of Southern Right Whales cruise past from May to September.

If you want to be on the waters and aren't fussed about fishing, try Marion Bay Ocean Safari who offer cruise experiences out of stunning Pondalowie Bay. For complete relaxation, SA Eco Tours offer a guided package of the wild south.

Troubridge Island

Troubridge Island Conservation Park is six kilometres off the coast from Edithburgh. This unique sand island is an important breeding area for birds. Only accessible by boat and with a permit, once you've reached this peaceful island, take in its beauty by fishing or swimming along the white sandy beaches. Hide away for a few nights in the original lighthouse keeper's cottage. The Heritage-listed cottage accommodation has all the modern conveniences you need for an idyllic escape from city life.

Adelaide International Bird Sanctuary

The Adelaide International Bird Sanctuary National Park – Winaityinaityi Pangkara helps protect resident and migratory shorebirds along the coast of Gulf St Vincent. It covers a 60 kilometre stretch of coast from the Barker Inlet to Port Parham, including sections of the Adelaide Dolphin Sanctuary.

Each summer, the mudflats, mangroves and saltmarshes support an estimated 27,000 shorebirds, including many listed as threatened species.

NORTHERN YORKE PENINSULA

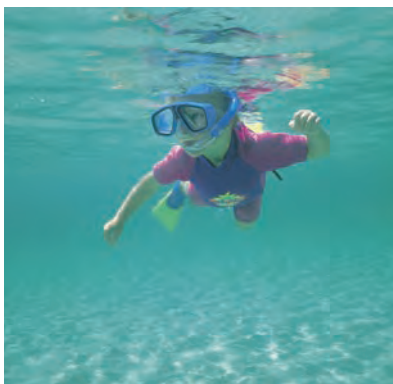

Moonta Bay Jetty

DON'T MISS...

Port Hughes

Port Hughes

Port Hughes has a very popular timber jetty and is home to one of the two Copper Coast boat ramps, a multi-lane recently upgraded area with boat wash and large boat trailer parking area. The Port Hughes foreshore area has a general store, tavern, playground, grassed barbecue areas and public parking.

When the weather turns cooler, long walks along the beach or waiting for one of the spectacular Spencer Gulf sunsets is the perfect way to finish your day.

Wallaroo Heritage and Nautical Museum

The 1877 Tiparra lighthouse is placed out front, but there's plenty to see inside the Wallaroo Heritage and Nautical Museum as well. Housed in the town's first post office, there is extensive local history of mining, farming and lifestyle. Also featured is 'George the Giant Squid', a deep ocean-dwelling squid, obtained from the stomach of a whale in 1980 and is now preserved and on display. George is a favourite with the kids!

Port Broughton

This small fishing town enjoys a big reputation as the home of great fishing! Expect plenty of reel action, whether you're on the jetty, launching a boat from the excellent facilities (the dual-lane, twin boarding pontoons provide all-tide access) or heading to some secret spots with one of the local boat charters. Other attractions include an excellent caravan park, a heritage centre and historic walking trail. Fresh seafood graces most local menus, including the menu of the Port Broughton Hotel.

Moonta Mines

The rich copper deposit beneath Moonta Mines helped bankroll South Australia and brought Cornish culture to the other side of the world. Board the famous Tourist Railway to see the dramatic mine site and hear tales of life, loss and the remarkable legacy of Moonta. (Know why a Cornish pastie has a thick crust on the top? Prepare to be amazed!)

Copper Coast Putt Putt

Copper Coast Putt Putt is an 18-hole mini golf course located in the grounds out the front of the Copper Coast Visitor Information Centre at 50 Mines Road, Kadina.

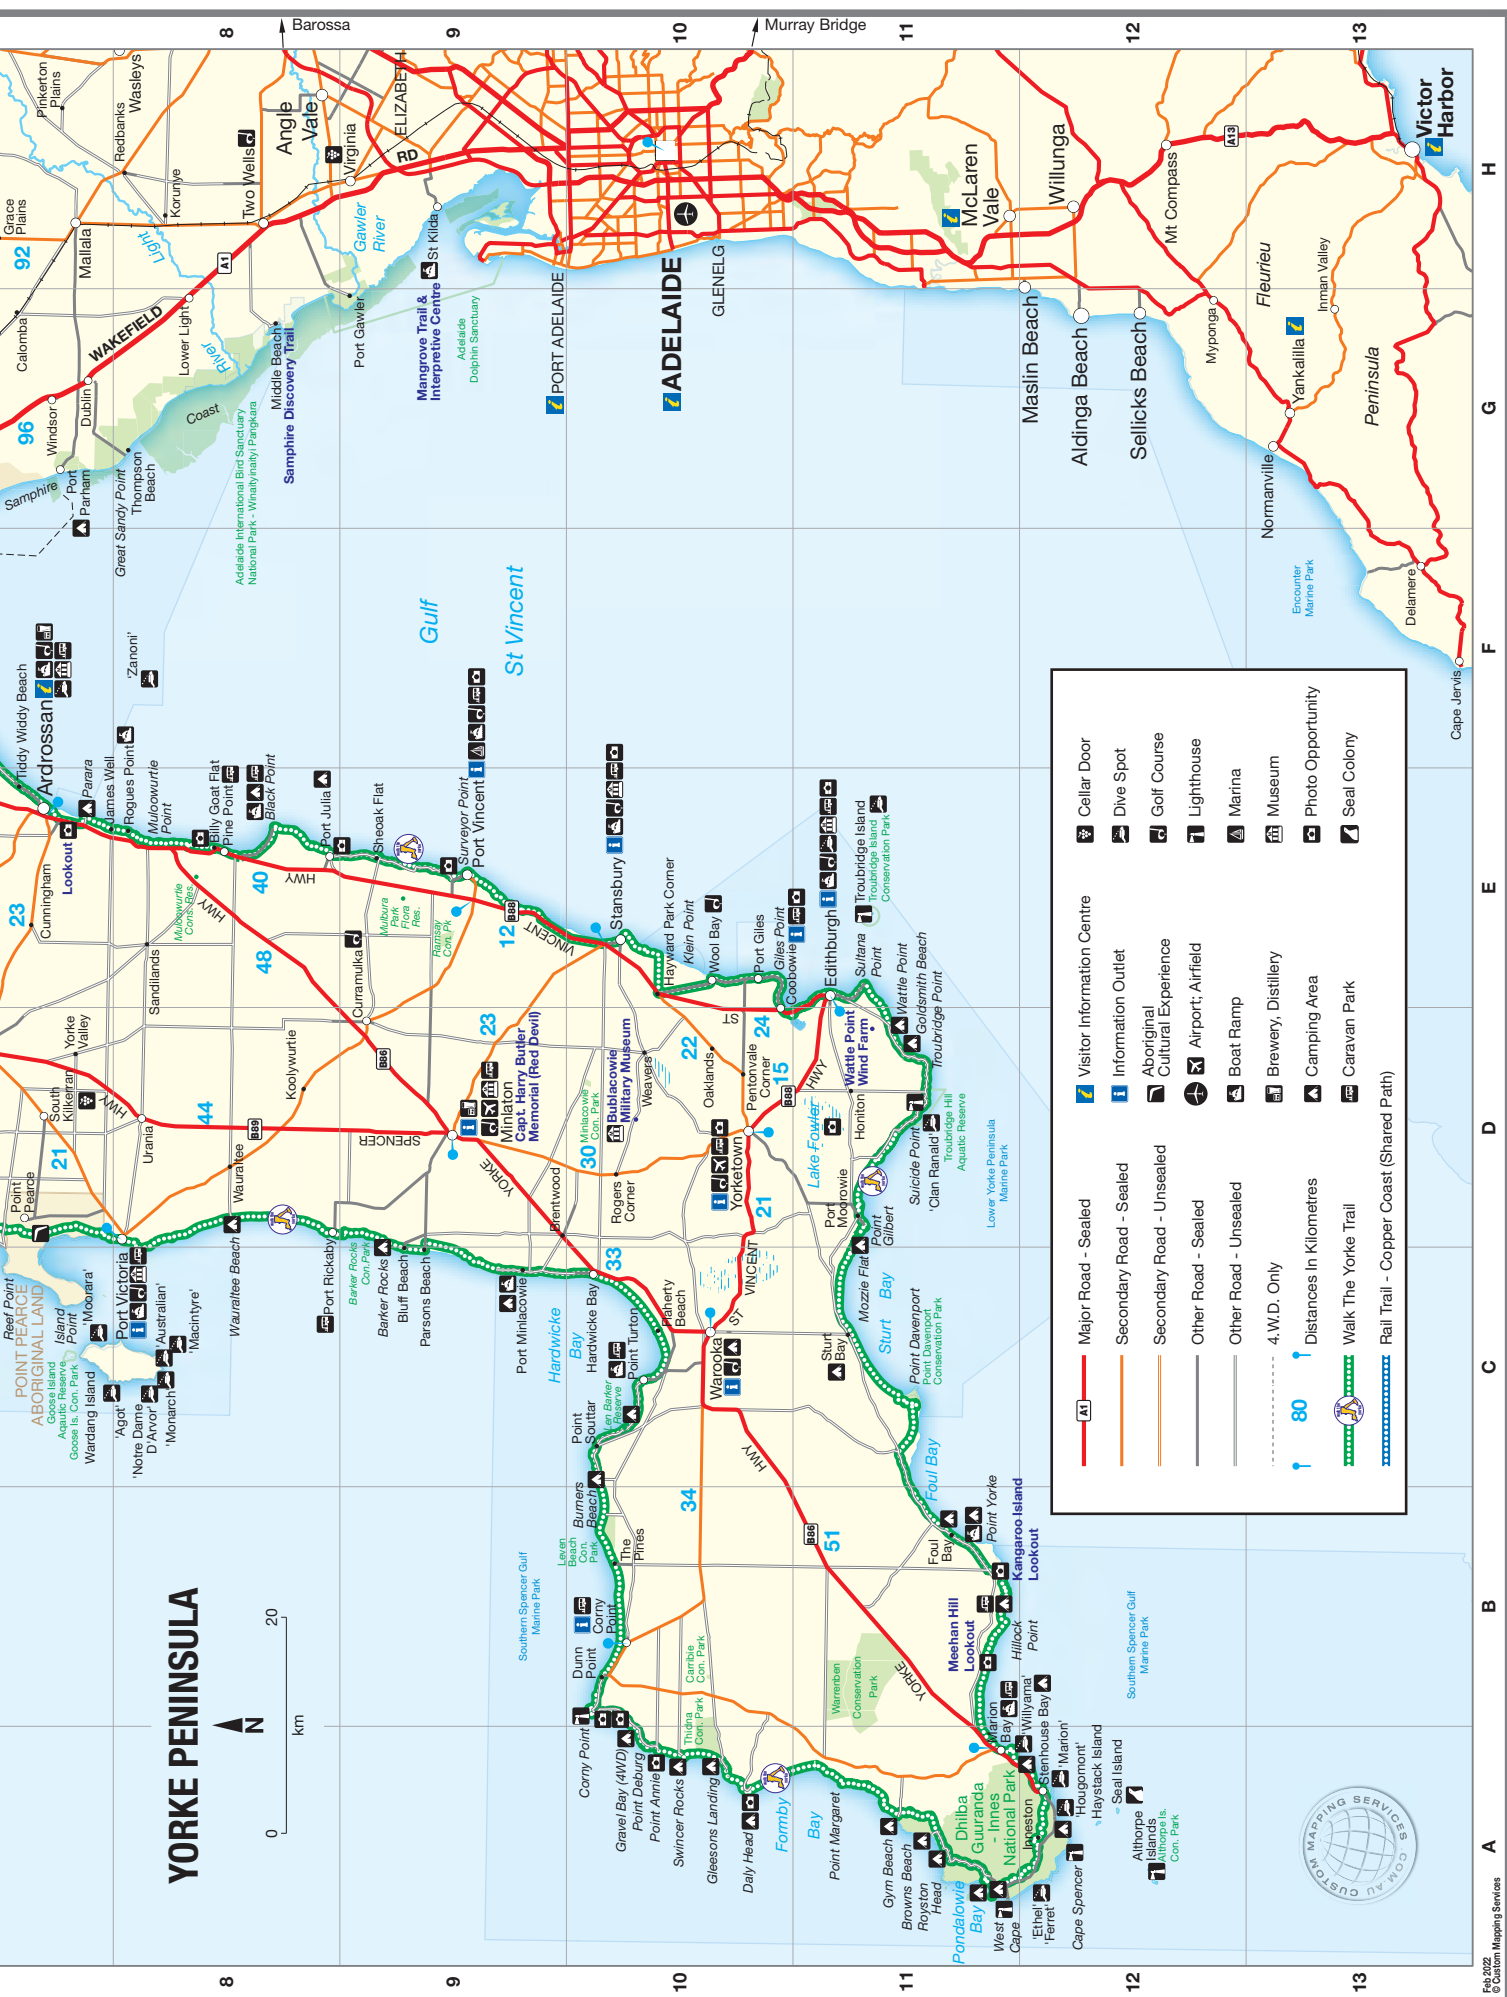

Allow about an hour to play a round at this fun course as part of your visit to the centre. On selected days, the miniature train offers rides around the complex.

North Beach, Wallaroo

North Beach, Wallaroo is one of the last beaches in South Australia where you are permitted to drive onto the sand. The Wallaroo Holiday Park sits on the fabulous two-kilometre stretch of golden sand; North Beach Kitchen also enjoys a prime beachfront position, so fish and chips on the deck is a must. Sunsets are spectacular.

DON'T MISS A THING WITH THESE JAM-PACKED ITINERARIES.

Copperclub Golf Course, Port Hughes

INDULGE

Take breakfast on the deck at North Beach Kitchen, with views over the Spencer Gulf then do the two-kilometre walk along Wallaroo's famous stretch of sand.

Work up a thirst by hitting the greens at The Dunes golf course at Port Hughes, a course designed by Greg Norman.

Once you've packed up the clubs, relax at Bond Store in the centre of Wallaroo, for a meal or drink.

Be sure to allow time for a drive to Port Broughton for a pub dinner and to watch the sun setting over Spencer Gulf. The illuminated silo art in Wallaroo is a must-see.

Find great accommodation options in Port Broughton, Wallaroo, Kadina, Port Hughes and Moonta Bay.

Café Capella's, Moonta

ENJOY

All aboard the train at Moonta Mines, with a guided tour of the old mine site and the history of the area. Copper was discovered here in 1854 when skilled miners from Cornwall were encouraged to make the voyage to the colony.

Grab your souvenirs at the gift shop, then stroll down Moonta's Main Street for some retail therapy.

Stop in at Taste the Yorke for some local produce, then make your way to Moonta Bay, find a secluded piece of sand and enjoy your picnic.

After an afternoon on the beach, we suggest you try Café Capella's in Moonta for a delicious meal to round out the day.

Port Broughton Tourist Park

GOT THE KIDS?

Make Kadina your first destination where the young ones can burn off some energy at the Farm Shed and Play Centre. Explore the farming history and then let the kids loose on the indoor playground.

There are many eateries in the town centre, so grab a bite and head to the Apex and Treetops playground in Victoria Square. Alternatively, head to Port Broughton Tourist Park or the town's foreshore recreation area – a real energy burner.

To cool down, the Splash Town Water Park at Moonta Bay is free to enter. It's the best place to take the kids – they'll love it!

Round the day off by getting back to nature with a walk on nearby South Beach at Port Hughes.

LOOK AND LEARN

Located in Kadina, the Farm Shed Museum has over a century of Australian dryland farming history showcased. Visit to see how they lived, farmed and mined in the 1900s.

Kadina is the largest town on Yorke Peninsula and is the unofficial capital of 'Australia's Little Cornwall'. In its mining heyday in the late 19th century, Kadina had a population of 20,000 people. Today it's home to around 4500 people. Kernewek Lowender, the biennial Cornish Festival, is held in Moonta, Wallaroo and Kadina. The next event is 2023.

Families like to head to Victoria Square Park, which has large shady trees and radical Treetops Playground. Kadina is also home to an indoor play centre, miniature train and putt-putt course at the visitor centre. If you're with older children, why not hire a bike to explore Kadina's historic township or walking trails? There is an 18-hole golf course with clubhouse and a range of cafés, restaurants and hotels.

MOONTA

Moonta's origins in 1860 were based in copper mining. The ensuing flood of skilled miners from Cornwall changed the state's cultural mix and as a celebration of Cornish heritage, Moonta takes part in the biennial Kernewek Lowender festival, along with Kadina and Wallaroo.

There are many beautiful historic buildings in town, including the Moonta Mines Museum in the Moonta Mines Model School. Built around 1878, the museum is worth a visit. It's also the place to board the tourist train which takes you around the heritage areas. You can enjoy a stroll along the main street where you'll find a variety of shops from antiques to giftware. Café Capella's and Taste the Yorke, are especially popular for their fine foods.

DON'T MISS...

Port Julia

Port Victoria

Port Victoria is located on the western coastline of Yorke Peninsula and has a wealth of maritime heritage for history lovers to explore. Port Victoria is known as the last of the windjammer ports.

For over 70 years grain was loaded onto ships bound for Europe via Cape Horn. Port Victoria was once the fourth largest port in South Australia, and was one of the last Australian ports to see the large square-rigged sailing vessels operate on a commercial basis. This story is brilliantly told in the Port Victoria Maritime Museum.

Barley Stacks Wines

Barley Stacks was the first commercial vineyard and winery to be established on the traditional barley belt of Yorke Peninsula. A short drive south from the historic town of Maitland, the wine produced at Barley Stacks Wines is made from the grapes grown in their own vineyards, which are crushed, fermented, stored and bottled on-site. The vines were planted in 1996 and include Shiraz, Cabernet Sauvignon, Chardonnay and Viognier. The Barley Stacks Wines Cellar Door and Function Centre is open seven days a week. Tasting experiences, as well as pizzas and cheese platters are available, and events are held throughout the year.

Port Victoria

Walk the Yorke – Port Victoria to Balgowan

One of the shorter sections at a distance of 21.3 kilometres, this should take around five and a half hours. Off the coastline of Port Victoria is Wardang Island, which covers an area of around 2025 hectares. Just to the north of Port Victoria, the trail goes inland through the Nharangga Aboriginal Lands and Point Pearce. The trail continues north to Balgowan, once a shipping port and now a coastal holiday retreat. Take time to admire the spectacular cliffs, especially worth a look at sunset.

Ardrossan Lookout

Located approximately five kilometres south of Ardrossan, the Ardrossan Lookout is a great spot for a fantastic sunrise photo over the gulf. From the lookout you can view the dolomite mine to the west and Gulf St Vincent and Adelaide to the east. Or head to the coastal side of town, where the imposing red cliffs provide amazing photo opportunities.

Parara

Bush camping

Central Yorke Peninsula is home to some truly beautiful bush camping spots. Set up and enjoy the scenic ocean views at either Parara, The Gap, The Bamboos, Tiparra Rocks or Wauralte Beach. Check each bush camping location for facilities and number of sites, which are first come-first served. Fees vary with permits available for a night, week, month or year.

Stump Jump Plough

Ardrossan Museum

This is some of the best barley producing country in the world. The early settlers helped ease the early backbreaking work of clearing mallee stumps to create cropping land using the Stump Jump Plough – the history of which can be found in the Ardrossan Museum. The plough, the rich limestone soils and the dedication of local growers resulted in the production of bumper crops.

SUNRISE TO SUNSET

Start the day at Ardrossan after spending the night at one of the accommodation options in town, and head to the town's lookout for great views of the sunrise across the gulf.

Check out Emoyeni Wines before heading across to Maitland at your leisure and time your journey to take in the local markets. Admire the giant bronze Clydesdale horse sculpture in the centre of town and settle in to a local pub for some country hospitality.

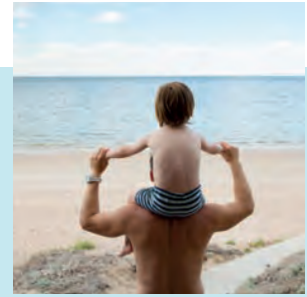

Spend a night at Peg's Place Farm Stay and watch the sunset over the jetty at Port Victoria, stretch your legs on the beach and take in the interpretive signage of the many shipwrecks of the coast.

Maitland

CENTRAL COUNTRY

The centre of Yorke Peninsula is renowned for its prime cropping land, providing bumper crops of barley, wheat, beans, and lentils. Depending on the time of year, you will see farmers sowing their crops or bringing in the harvest with their massive machinery. In summer, be sure to look out for Shinglebacks, or 'sleepy lizards'. Spend a day cruising the backroads and look for photo opportunities. When the canola is flowering, the brilliant yellow makes for an amazing roadside backdrop. Head to Barley Stacks Wines, south of Maitland, for a spot of wine tasting, made from local grapes. The vines were planted in 1996 and produce Shiraz, Cabernet Sauvignon, Chardonnay and Viognier.

Black Point

BEACH IT UP

Start your day at Black Point. This north-facing beach is renowned for its beauty and convenience from Adelaide. With such spectacular views, and the appearance of a coffee van to meet your caffeine needs, you may find it hard to tear yourself away. Head north to Ardrossan and stroll the streets.

A centre for the surrounding areas, Ardrossan has some great shops to discover. You may want to hit the bakery for some of their famous produce and then stroll the jetty where views of the silos to the south are impressive. Any luck and there will be huge ships anchored in the bay, ready to take on loads of dolomite. End the day in one of the country pubs for a hearty country meal.

Raking for crabs, Ardrossan

TOWNS OF CENTRAL YORKE PENINSULA

Ardrossan is a main agricultural centre for the surrounding districts which are a rich wheat and barley growing area. Bulk grain handling facilities and a sea port allow easy exportation of produce and the silos can be seen from kilometres away. Ships can often be seen in the bay, awaiting loading. There is a dolomite operation just south of the town (offering a great lookout) and Cheetham Salt harvests salt north of Ardrossan, near Price.

Ardrossan is a well serviced town offering good shopping and facilities with a supermarket, hardware stores, clothing and general shopping. Ardrossan also has two hotels, takeaway food, a bakery, cafés and fuel outlets. Head to local boutique winery Emoyeni Wines on their open days for tastings and sales.

Ardrossan is home to the delicious Blue Swimmer crab, a delicacy that can easily be caught and enjoyed in the warmer months using nets from the jetty or by raking the shallows at low tide – you can do this either north or south of the town. Don't forget to wear shoes, as those claws are sharp!

The jetty is usually a hive of activity with anglers casting lines for tommies, mullet, garfish, crabs and squid. There is a small, protected boat harbour with pontoon boarding and all tide access, providing useful facilities for any visiting angler.

Take the opportunity to see a piece of South Australian history at the local museum. Designed and manufactured locally, the historic agricultural implement, the Stump Jump Plough, made it possible to farm the world's finest barley nearby. The museum is the site of the original factory of inventor, CH Smith.

Stroll along the scenic cliff top trail from Ardrossan to Tiddy Widdy Beach. With great views of Gulf St Vincent and plenty of birdlife, this easy three-kilometre trail is both cycle and wheelchair-friendly and forms part of the Walk the Yorke trail.

Out at sea, the wreck of the Zanoni lies 10 nautical miles from shore. A diving permit is required to dive on this historic wreck. The Windara Reef is seven kilometres off the coast. It is the first shellfish restoration reef of its kind in South Australia and has been designed to contribute to a healthier marine environment and improved opportunities for recreational fishers.

The National Trust Museum and Information Centre provide an insight into local history and the natural attractions of the area. The Ardrossan Caravan Park is ideally located with easy access to the town centre, jetty, beach, golf course and boat ramp. Facilities include villas, cabins, ensuite powered sites, powered and unpowered sites, fish cleaning, crab cooking, laundry and playgrounds.

A small town in the centre of the peninsula, Artherton is surrounded by farmland with some of Australia's richest crop-producing soils. Sunny Hill Distillery is located just to the north of the town, producing vodka and gin from locally grown grain.

BLACK POINT

Black Point offers a beach with no rips, making it a popular destination for families and holiday makers. It provides absolute beachfront accommodation with plenty of options available from a basic beach shack to luxury self-contained holiday homes. There is also a small caravan park located on the cliff top overlooking the bay.

There are several beach access points, and a boat ramp. Swimming, fishing, crabbing, sailing and water skiing are among the most popular aquatic activities.

Scan the QR codes to access town maps

With no roads in between the front row and the water, the only thing between you and the ocean is the white sandy beach.

Once a 19th century quarantine station, Black Point is now one of the most prized stretches of real estate in South Australia. With around 150 'shacks' lining the beautiful, white crescent beach, many buildings are more elaborate than the average family home, as are some of the boats. Black Point is sometimes portrayed as a playground of the elite, but it's open for everyone to enjoy.

Take advantage of the Walk the Yorke trail and meander along the cliff tops. If you're lucky you might spot Wilfred the Van where you can grab a morning coffee.

Raking for Blue Swimmer crabs is possible here too, look for them when the tide is turning.

Situated on top of a ridge, overlooking the Yorke Valley, Maitland is geographically the central town on Yorke Peninsula, only a 15-minute drive from both the east and west coasts. Due to higher rainfall than other parts of the Yorke Peninsula, Maitland is surrounded by some of the best barley country in Australia.

Maitland has a historic walking trail that winds its way past heritage buildings and the National Trust Museum. The Maitland Hotel was one of the first buildings, constructed in 1874. Those with an eye for sport and politics will find the town's war memorial interesting. It contains the names of football legends, as well as the father of an Australian Prime Minister.

The Maitland Markets are open weekly – centrally located, the markets have plenty of room to park the caravan. Look out for the bronze sculpture of a Clydesdale, representing a bygone era when farmers were dependent on their horses. Wander in and have a look at the range of interesting goods for sale.

Maitland Information Outlet, located in the Heart of Maitland complex, can provide information on the local area as well as maps and brochures. The town has a great bakery and café for your food and coffee needs.

A little over 13 kilometres south of Maitland on the Spencer Highway is Barley Stacks Wines. Located right in the middle of Yorke Peninsula's barley belt, an area traditionally renowned for growing the world's best malting barley, the vineyard has a strong focus on environmental sustainability. All wine produced at Barley Stacks is made from grapes grown in the vineyards, where it is also crushed, fermented, stored, and bottled right on site. The cellar door is open seven days a week for tastings.

PINE POINT

Pine Point overlooks Port Alfred Bay and with the sweep of Black Point in the distance, was once one of the busiest ports on Yorke Peninsula. Today, it is a popular spot for fishing and raking the shallows for Blue Swimmer crabs.

PORT VICTORIA

Start your visit to Port Victoria at the beautiful (and very long) jetty. At the end of the 19th century the waters were filled with sailing ships of all sizes, their holds bulging with sacks of wheat and barley.

The small Port Victoria Maritime Museum at the start of the jetty showcases the town's history and maritime heritage and is well worth a visit. The Wardang Island Maritime Heritage Trail includes eight shipwrecks located in the nearby waters off Wardang Island. You can explore these and the underwater diving trail is very popular. If you're not a diver, there are also interpretative signs on land. The Port Victoria Jetty was recently repaired after a storm and is back to its former glory, once again popular with swimmers and anglers.

The Port Victoria Geology Trail extends from south of the jetty for around four kilometres to Rifle Butts Beach and showcases the area's volcanic beginnings. Brochures for this trail are available at the local shop. There are also foreshore walking trails, for those who wish to stretch their legs.

Port Victoria has a terrific hotel, takeaway and general store. Nearby Maitland is just 10 minutes drive to the north for all other needs.

Consider experiencing 40,000 years of Aboriginal dreaming, culture and heritage by joining a tour with Aboriginal Cultural Tours SA. This award-winning tour operator has tours of nearby Point Pearce and its Aboriginal lands. It also takes tour groups to Dhillba Guuranda-Innes National Park at the foot of Yorke Peninsula.

EDITHBURGH

Located in the south-eastern corner of Yorke Peninsula and looking out to Troubridge Island, Edithburgh has always been a popular destination for locals as well as visitors.

Overlooked by the Wattle Point wind farm, the town has hotels, motels, a caravan park, coastal golf course and parklands laid out to the same design as those in Adelaide by Colonel William Light. The park lands have recently become the site for well attended Park Runs, so if you are in the area, feel free to take part.

There isn't much need for swimming pools near the beach but Edithburgh has one and the tidal saltwater pool is a hit in summer. If you are visiting, it's not to be missed. Edithburgh is an excellent spot for anglers with mullet, yellowfin, whiting and larger fish all popular catches. Fishing can be done from the jetty, boat or beach, and boat launching is made easy with twin boat ramps and floating pontoons.

Known for its spectacular diving and snorkelling, the jetty has a variety of marine life, from Leafy seadragons to Big-bellied seahorses, Port Jackson sharks, cuttlefish and a range of fish and corals.

At the museum, learn about the large salt industry that once dominated the town and discover the historic Clan Ranald and Marion shipwrecks that lie just off the coast. There are quaint shops and plenty of meal options. Edithburgh is also a base for a pre-booked trip to Troubridge Island where the lighthouse still operates.

TOWNS OF SOUTHERN YORKE PENINSULA

COOBOWIE

Close to Edithburgh, early explorers found Coobowie and the tidal inlet so attractive they started planning a big city here. When fresh water couldn't be found, they felt cheated and named it Deception Bay. Today Coobowie is a popular seaside town with plenty of fishing spots and wide beaches. There is a hotel and playground close to the foreshore and a picturesque five-kilometre coastal walking trail to Edithburgh. Birdwatchers shouldn't miss the Coobowie Bird Hide. There are brochures available locally to help identify the array of birdlife. The Coobowie Caravan Park is a great place to stay with cabins available right on the foreshore.

CORNY POINT

Matthew Flinders named this area Corny Point because it looked like a corn on the foot of Yorke Peninsula. Corny Point is the gateway to the best surfing spots on the west coast; Berry Bay and Formby Bay to name a few. It's a popular place for boat fishing and there are several north-facing swimming beaches which are great for kids. Grab a bite from the shop or tavern and enjoy the untouched outdoors. The 1881 Corny Point lighthouse is the starting point for many adventures – don't forget to stop and take a picture with this local landmark.

MARION BAY

Nestled in coastal scrubland, Marion Bay has long been known as a great base for holidaymakers, anglers and surfers looking to explore Dhillba Guuranda-Innes National Park and the foot of the peninsula. There's a sheltered swimming beach, surf beach, boat ramp and an ink-stained jetty that's legendary for its big squid. Marion Bay is on the doorstep of some of the best beaches in Australia with a rich maritime history and a great place to truly get back to nature.

The protection from rough ocean conditions sees the area home to fishing and cray-fishing boats which are active over the warmer months. There are few locations on Yorke Peninsula that can match the reputation of Marion Bay for deep-water fishing, and several charters operate in the area. The autumn mullet run is also a drawcard for beach anglers and popular fishing hotspot Butler's Beach is only 16 kilometres to the east. The unique Hillocks Drive camping and accommodation can also be found here.

Marion Bay has a general store for takeaway and grocery needs and the tavern is excellent. You'll find lots of accommodation options from holiday homes and units to a motel and caravan park; or try camping outdoors – there are plenty of campsites to choose from on the coast and in the National Park, but check if you need a permit before setting up camp. The visitor's centre is at the entrance of the park and a great source of information.

MINLATON

Minlaton was settled in the 1870s by farmers who found the conditions ideal for growing wheat, barley and sheep grazing. Today, this large and prosperous town features a playground, skate park and picnic area, and the main street has a variety of shops. Be sure to call in to Harvest Corner for local produce, quality crafts and visitor information; and craft brewery, Watsacowie Brewing Company for a tasty ale and the Minlaton Caravan Park is located nearby for accommodation. If you need to park your van, there is room on Fourth Street – the ideal place to embark on a journey down the main street.

Minlagawi Gum Flat Reserve, east of the town is a great spot for a picnic. There is a picturesque walking trail which includes Yorke Peninsula's only red gum stand, Aboriginal wells and a she-oak forest.

The kids will love the fauna park with its inquisitive kangaroos and emus. Nearby is a memorial to Captain Harry Butler, who in 1919 flew his World War I Bristol monoplane Red Devil on the first special mail delivery in the Southern Hemisphere across the sea to Minlaton from Adelaide. Believed to be the only genuine Bristol monoplane left in the world, it has been restored to its original condition. Harry's statue stands nearby, testament to Minlaton's most famous son.

POINT TURTON

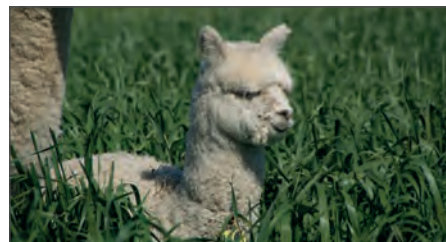

Point Turton overlooks the white sandy beaches of Hardwicke Bay where the peninsula's 'leg' meets its 'foot'. The sheltered waters are perfect for year-round boating, fishing and sailing.

Point Turton offers a lower Spencer Gulf sunset that is hard to ignore. There is also a good range of services including a swimming centre, nature playground, General Store and a caravan park overlooking the jetty.

PORT VINCENT

Port Vincent is a popular holiday destination and an ideal location for all water pursuits. Fishing, boating, sailing, swimming and snorkelling are all enjoyed here and the Town Beach is perfect for families. The marina offers an all-tide boat ramp. Kids will love swimming out to the pontoon from the main beach and wandering along the wharf to see what the locals catch.

Cliff top lookouts and walking trails offer great views across the bay and you can work up a thirst before heading into the shopping strip. The main street is a great place to browse the various shops and you can stop for a bite to eat at the café, kiosk or hotel whilst taking in the sea views.

Port Vincent offers accommodation to suit every need; caravan parks, cabins, apartments, holiday homes, a motel, a villa, glamping and more.

STANSBURY

On the pristine sheltered waters of Oyster Bay, Stansbury attracts swimmers, water-skiers, sailors and windsurfers. It is popular with anglers and provides easy access to deeper water. Attractions include the local museum and the bustling Stansbury Seaside Markets held on the foreshore from October to March. You can also pop into the Visitor's Centre for some local knowledge on what to see in the area.

Crabbers know this is the place to go for Blue Swimmer crabs, which inhabit the shallows in warmer months. Rakes and other crabbing equipment can be purchased in town and you will see people dotting the water hoping to catch a feed.

There's an excellent walking trail where black swans can be seen gracing the town's back beach, and the Mill's Gully picnic spot offers a lookout with gulf views. The beachfront caravan park offers magnificent views to wake up to.

Local oyster farms supply fresh oysters straight from the sea (when in season), so keep your eye out for the signs. Other fresh seafood outlets are in town as well. You can also join the oyster crew on guided tours with 'Deckie for a Day'.

WAROOKA

A service centre for the surrounding area, Warooka is a great stop-off when travelling to or from Dhillba Guuranda-Innes National Park. It looks south to the 'bottom end' and north along the coast from Hardwicke Bay around to Point Turton where you'll find white sandy beaches perfect for swimming and windsurfing.

Buildings in Warooka date from the late 1800s and the Warooka Museum, formerly the police station, houses a comprehensive display of items originating from the surrounding area.

Lower Yorke Seafood has local seafood for sale, and is located only four kilometres west of Warooka.

WOOL BAY

Named Wool Bay because it had a cutting in the cliff wide enough to roll a bale of wool down to the beach, this seaside town once served as a port for the district's farms and pastoral runs.

These days Wool Bay is a quiet gulf getaway, with Stansbury and Edithburgh on either side. Enjoy the relaxed and peaceful atmosphere of this small town or try your luck fishing or squidding from the jetty. On the cliff top you can see the remains of the lime kilns that were once common on this part of the peninsula.

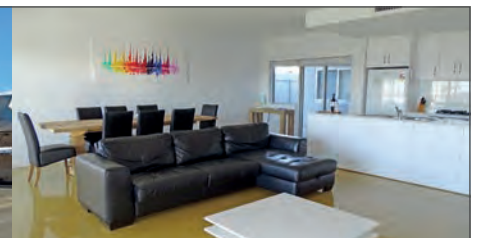

YORKETOWN

The retail centre for surrounding areas, Yorketown is at the junction of five roads. It's the perfect spot to stock up on groceries in the well provisioned Yorketown Foodland.

Surrounded by about 200 salt lakes, which were once harvested for their salt, today the salt crystal formations and pink lakes are a drawcard for photographers. Follow the complete circuit of the Salt Lake Trail, starting and finishing in Yorketown. This driving route takes you past some of the best and most accessible salt lakes on Southern Yorke Peninsula. Interpretative signage highlighting the history of salt production in the area can be found at stops along the trail at Lake Fowler, Dhalliwangu – Lake Sunday and Pink Lake. Sunrise and sunset offer excellent photographic opportunities as the sun's rays reflect on the surface of the lake, creating prisms of colour ranging from pink and orange, to silver and white.

Yorketown's old courthouse holds over 1000 photographs and there is a town walk for visitors. Yorketown is a good spot to stop for something to eat. It's home to a supermarket, liquor stores, fuel, banking and good shopping. The town's caravan park, which skirts the Yorketown Oval, offers accommodation.

GETTING HERE + AROUND

Dhilba Guuranda-Innes National Park

BYO a vehicle (or hire one in Adelaide), but either way, driving through Yorke Peninsula is a wonderful experience with views of the ocean and stretches of farming land to keep you company. Follow National Highway One from Adelaide to Port Wakefield. At Federation Corner, you can choose to turn south along the coast or continue straight on to reach the Copper Coast in around 30 minutes. Towns and attractions are close to one another, so travel at your own pace and stop to take in the sights, or follow one of our self-drive itineraries in this guide. There are fuel stations in most towns, just remember some close in early evening.

By coach

Yorke Peninsula Coaches operate regular services from Adelaide Central Bus Station on Franklin Street to various towns throughout Yorke Peninsula. There are limited bus services or transport options between towns on Yorke Peninsula.

Cycling

There is no better way to enjoy Yorke Peninsula's diverse landscapes than by bike. The Walk the Yorke leisure trail offers shared cycling/walking trails around the coastline, and the sealed Rail Trail connects the towns of Kadina and Wallaroo following the old railway line. There are shelters and interpretive signs along both the Walk the Yorke and Rail Trails. The Copper Coast Visitor Information Centre offers free bike hire to visitors and many caravan parks also offer bike hire to their patrons or call in and see the experts at Copper Trails Bike Hire in Kadina.

Spencer Gulf Searoad

Take a break and take a ferry! Spencer Gulf Searoad travels daily between Wallaroo and Lucky Bay on Eyre Peninsula. Café facilities can be found on board Aurora V and at the Lucky Bay terminal. The ferry can take you and your vehicle or just you and bookings can be made online. Either way you can sit back, relax and admire the ultimate gulf views.

Mapping it out – The Coastal Way

Yorke Peninsula has a spectacular and interesting history waiting to be explored.
